PENINSULA-WIDE HUNT

W'lake Burglar Sought For 53 County Raids

A pesky and pestilent burglar who police believe may be responsible for no less than 53 burglaries in the county since September, struck twice more in the Daly City's Palisades section Thursday night.

The intruder raided homes at 623 Skyline drive and 697 Skyline drive while the occupants were away briefly for a few hours.

His haul and methods were identical to those of the thief who ransacked two other Palisades homes on Sunday night, December 14, and matched eight other burglaries in the Olympic and unit I sections of Westlake the past three months.

On Tuesday last week, the residence of John Renati, 65 Cliffside drive, was entered and the loss amounted to only a transistor radio. But the burglar may have been scared off just about the time the family returned.

Police inspectors from San Mateo, San Bruno and South San Francisco met with Daly City officers here Thursday afternoon to compare notes on the burglary wave. Their conclusion was that the same adult —and not a juvenile or juveniles —is responsible for the rash of some break-ins.

In most of the raids, the thief enters the homes the back way, usually waiting to see if the lights are out and if windows are left open.

"He's too determined to be a juvenile" said Asst. Police Chief Roy McLaren of Daly City. "He usually is looking for money and personal property that can be sold."

The crime reports show the intruder takes cash, jewelry, radios, cameras and men's clothing. He has never taken any women's clothing.

The first two burglaries in the Palisades, on Northridge drive and Menlo avenue, found the culprit partaking of beverages and using lipstick to write "The Cat" on a door and mirrors.

Police first thought this may have been a juvenile, but by linking other "trademarks" of the invader with these, they now know it's the same person.

McLaren again urges all Westlake residents to keep their lights and radios on and windows latched during the evening hours. He also wants them to make sure no one suspicious is watching them as they prepare to go out for the evening. If a suspicious car or person is seen near a home, residents are asked to call the police department immediately and take down the license number.

The police can be contacted at PL 5-0850.

Since September, the thief reportedly has raided six San Mateo homes, 14 in San Bruno, two in Millbrae, 21 in South San Francisco and 10 here.

WIFE BEATEN: FATHER OF 8 FACES TRIAL

A 32-year-old old jack-hammer operator will face trial in muncipal court next month on charges of beating his wife, and disturbing the peace.

Hayward Fotenot, whose wife and children live at 318 Bellevue avenue, Daly City, was arrested December 5 on complaint of his wife, who said he viciously beat her in the presence of the youngsters.

Separated from his wife the past three months, Fotenot said he had a disagreement with her over care of the children.

He pled not guilty before Judge Tom Bocci last week. He comes up for trial on January 13.

In other dispositions, Bocci set a January 15 trial date for James A. Shattuck, 18, of 86 Crestview avenue drive, Daly City, after the latter pled not guilty to being drunk and disturbing the peace in the recent teenagers' fight outside Westlake Bowl. Three other youths were arrested in the case.

Gary B. Hammond, 18, a sheet metal worker who lives here at 859 Niantic avenue, pled guilty to drunk driving in Westlake on December 8 and was sentenced to 30 days in jail or $250 fine.

3 Cops Hurt In Riot-Call Accident Here

Three Daly City police officers were injured Friday night about 11 o'clock when their patrol car was struck by another auto at the Junipero Serra-Alemany intersection.

Officer Jim Bergstrom and reserve officers Wayne Carr and William Gotwalt were en route to Westlake Bowl to answer a riot call. The patrol car approached the intersection from Knowles avenue with its siren on and red lights flashing. All of the traffic stopped except a sedan, going south on Junipero Serra, operated by

Judge Becker Honored By Bar Officials

Daly City's Charles Becker, Westlake attorney who will become municipal judge of the Northern Judicial District on January 5, was honored by the North County Bar Association at a testimonial dinner Thursday night in South San Francisco.

Featured speaker for the fete at International Inn was Attorney Mel Cohn, incoming president of the San Mateo County Bar Association. In attendance were members of the county's five superior court departments, municipal judges in the central and southern districts, and about forty attorneys.

Becker, who lives at 5 Fieldcrest drive in Westlake, will take over the post now held by Judge Tom Bocci Jr. Bocci ran unsuccessfully for district attorney last June and did not seek re-election to the bench. Becker defeated John "Jack" Fahey, also of Daly City for the municipal judgeship in November.

One of Westlake's original settlers, Becker long has been active in community and school drives and is president of Temple Judea congregation.

DC Prep Off To Rose Bowl On Cal Squad

Tom Cloutier, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cloutier, 433 Westlake avenue, Daly City, will be among the 48 University of California footballers in uniform for the Rose Bowl game New Year's day against Iowa in Pasadena.

A reserve end, sophomore Cloutier stands 6-4½ and weighs 210 pounds. He was a three-sport star at Jefferson High, winning letters in football, basketball and baseball.

BIGGEST TURNOUT

900 Attend City's Annual Xmas Pageant, Enjoy Concert, Chorales

There were plenty of "standees" Wednesday night last week when a overflow audience invaded War Memorial community center for Daly City's annual Christmas pageant.

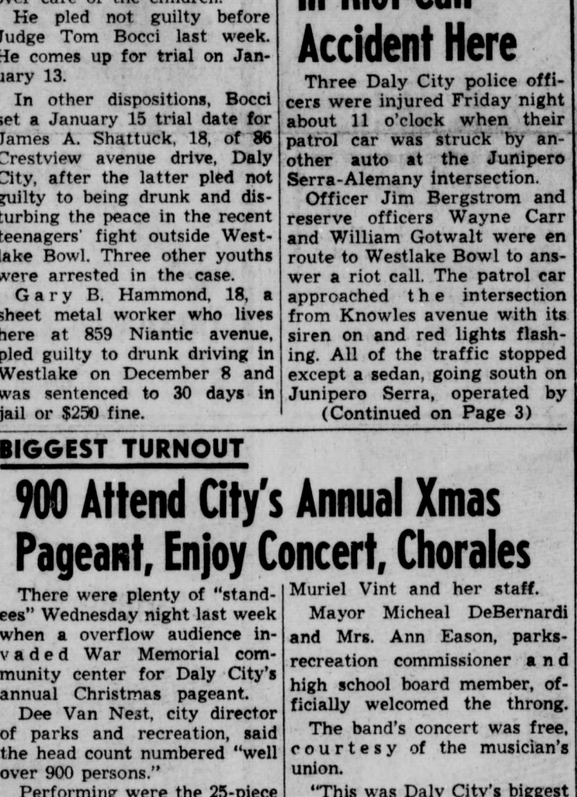
Dee Van Nest, city director of parks and recreation, said the head count numbered "well over 900 persons."

Performing were the 25-piece Daly City Municipal Band, expertly directed by George Brenner, and 420 choral students from Jefferson Elementary School District, led by Mrs. Muriel Vint and her staff.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi and Mrs. Ann Eason, parks-recreation commissioner and high school board member, officially welcomed the throng.

The band's concert was free, courtesy of the musician's union.

"This was Daly City's biggest Christmas turnout," said Van Nest. "My staff certainly wishes to thank all who participated and also the hundreds who witnessed the performance."



NAMED to the city personnel board is Robert Young, 36, who lives at 114 Valley street. A World War II and Korea veteran with the Navy, he works as a civilian at Treasure Island. He has lived in Daly City the past eight years.

Public Hearings Due In March On Daly City Freeway Routes

WEE Marsha Brinkley of Brisbane is wide-eyed as she asks the man with long beard the usual questions of youngsters as Thursday morning approches. Old St. Nick will be mighty busy once again.

The San Francisco office of the Division of Highways has wrapped up its surveys of five Daly City freeway route proposals and public hearing on state recommendations is expected within the next three months, City Manager George Watts reported today.

This news came out of a conference last Wednesday between State Highway Engineers E. W. Booker and J. P. Sinclair with Daly City and county officials.

Highway Division officials in Sacramento will study the five routes, then will set public hearings here, starting in March or April.

Watts said the city will try to have the freeway located where it will be the least detrimental to homeowners, business and the tax base.

It appears almost certain, he added, that the freeway will not be built along Alemany boulevard through Westlake, due to its destructive effects and the excessive costs in the matter of acquiring right of way. The city manager said the council's biggest protest is against the Westlake route proposal.

The four other routes studied, run north-south on Junipero Serra boulevard. Each of these has an alternate plan which involves cutting across from the west side of Junipero Serra near King's Market (School street), running down east of Junipero Serra to the cemeteries and then crossing over in or below the St. Francis Heights subdivision and the Christen lands.

The route along Junipero Serra that appears most suitable to the council completely avoids the St. Francis development and swings through the undeveloped Christen lands, finally connecting with Skyline boulevard (Coast freeway) by means of a proposed underground tunnel.

While this route would cause the least protests and disruption to business and residents, it would involve heavy expenditure for the tunnel at the Skyline connection.

The public hearings will find the state officials defining all of the proposed routes for the freeway and a report on costs, feasibility of the individual routes and a timetable on actual construction.

Last week's confab with the highway engineers was attended by the entire city council,

ROTATE MAYOR PLAN WEIGHED BY COUNCIL

The city council was set this week to act on a resolution to place the job of mayor of Daly City on a rotating basis, with the change taking place in April each year.

The council in study session Thursday night ordered City Attorney Paul Hupf to draft this resolution for action at this week's regular meeting.

If passed, and all indications are that it will, the resolution will find Mayor Micheal DeBernardi stepping down from the chairman's seat, which he assumed after his successful re-election bid last spring.

The present policy on naming a mayor is that a majority vote of the council can change the occupancy at any meeting.

DeBernardi, somewhat surprised by St. Clair's motion last week, became mayor in May, succeeding Joe Verducci. The vote was 3-2, with Verducci and Pacelli opposing DeBernardi for the center seat.

Edward J. Dennis, current vice mayor, and Pacelli, appear the top candidates to succeed DeBernardi.

In other business this week, the council will act on a new contract with the scavenger company on the Mussell Rock dump site, discuss Dennis' recent conference with the state on removal of the Mission street railway tracks, and report on progress in drafting the new city food ordinance.

COLLEGE CLASSES

City Planning Unique In-Service Training Program For Employees

An in-service training program for Daly City's 155 municipal employees will be launched next fall with a class for departmental supervisors, taught by a member of the College of San Mateo faculty.

This five-weeks class will be a "pilot" project, according to Administrative Assistant Phillip Brown, the city manager's aide who prompted the program here.

City employees have been notified through their department heads that they may voluntarily take these personnel-management-type classes, a schedule for which will depend on response and results of the first session for supervisory personnel.

"These classes," explained Brown, "will give our employees the opportunity to learn the latest techniques for

New North End Health Center Opens In SSF

The new $100,000 north San Mateo County health and welfare building in South San Francisco this week replaced the old office in Daly City as a center serving 140,000 residents.

The staff of the health and welfare unit Monday moved in into the modern structure at 1024 Old Mission road near Oak avenue.

Only the baby clinic will remain in operation at the old Daly City office here.

Official dedication of the new center will probably come in February, according to Dr Harlin Wynns, superintendent of the Health Division of the San Mateo County Department of

Holiday Mail At Postoffice Breaks Record

Mail rush at the Daly City Postoffice hit an all-time high last Thursday and may still go even higher before Santa Claus has made his rounds.

Postmaster Vince Murphy said 187,000 pieces of mail were processed last Thursday — a record-breaking mark here.

Murphy's 85 regular employees are being aided by 152 temporaries who started work on December 10. Twenty-one trucks guarantee prompt service.

Of the 237 postoffice workers, 135 are mail carriers. Ninety of the latter are part-time employees.

Parks-Rec Board Meeting Called Off—Two Absent

Absence of two commissioners forced concellation of last week's parks and recreation board meeting.

The commission won't meet again until next month—date to be announced later.

On the agenda will be development plans for the two Palisades playground sites, report on Westlake Basin site school construction, and applications from OLPH, World War I Vets, the Girl Scouts and the Lions Club for use of War Memorial building.

Board chairman, Louis Larcombe and commissioner Anthony Giammona were unable to attend last week's meeting. Larcombe was out of town on business. Giammona was in the hospital.

MOTOR VEHICLE OUTPUT

Automobile factories in the United States produced a total of 4,284,626 motor vehicles during the period from January 1 through November 22 this year, reports the National Automobile Club. This figure represented 2,180,807 units less than were produced during the same period of 1957.

3 Cops Hurt In Riot-Call Accident Here

Clinton J. Taylor, a Colma cab driver.

Taylor's sedan hit the police car broadside, sending the latter onto the traffic island on Alemany and into an oncoming eastbound pickup truck driven by Fred A. Schmidt of Brisbane.

The police car was a total wreck and the other vehicles had to be towed away.

Taylor, his wife, and the three officers were taken by ambulance to Junipero Serra hospital. Bergstrom complained of back injuries. Carr suffered broken ribs and a broken collarbone. Gotwalt was examined for fractures.

Police investigators signed a complaint against Taylor Monday for failure to yield the right of way to the police vehicle. They said Taylor also appeared to have been drinking, though the latter and his wife refused to take sobriety tests.

Bergstrom was cleared of liability by his fellow officers. They said he was using correct procedure in flashing the patrol car's redlights and using the siren.

The riot call turned out to be a fight between the head waitress at Westlake Bowl and a former female employee. Another patrol car was dispatched to the Bowl at the same time to check out a juvenile fight report.

improving their individual performances. This, in turn, should give the city more efficient operations in all departments."

The classes, featuring various specialists from the college faculty, would be held here once a week and last about one hour. Employees would attend during regular work hours.

The city won't be charged for the program since the funds are allocated to the college by the state. In case college-level courses for credit are offered, a registration fee of only $1 will be required from each employee enrolled in a class.

Brown said that at least 20 employees must sign up before a class can be authorized.

Eventually, he added, experts from other fields, such as businessmen in the community, might be asked to teach certain classes.

"So far as I know," Brown went on, "our program will be the first college-connected in-service training program in the Bay Area."

"We know our employees will benefit both themselves and their departments by participating," he said.

Bay Area Traffic, Law, Liquor Officials Urge 'Safe' Holidays

The Bay Area Traffic Executives Council today approved cooperation with the California Highway Patrol and the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control in an extensive enforcement and education program against the drinking driver during the December holidays.

"Each law enforcement agency represented in the Bay Area Traffic Executives Council group will include attention to the drinking driver in their Christmas and New Year Holiday enforcement programs," stated Hayward Police Chief George Forth, chairman of Bay Area Traffic Executives Council.

"This means that practically every local law enforcement agency in the greater Bay Area will join the Highway Patrol and Alcoholic Beverage Control in a united effort to control the traffic accident problem involving drivers who had been drinking."

Don't Die. Drive Dry, is one of the slogans being used this December statewide," Forth continued. "Another good slogan which applies to office party plans says simply, 'Dry it up or cut it out'."

"Radio and television programs, newspaper releases, speeches, posters, and personal contacts will also be used to spread the word against the drinking driver," the chief said. "Enforcement actions will include traffic checks and special attention to drivers and pedestrians who have imbibed too freely."

Bay Area Traffic Executives Council urges every one in the Greater Bay Area to exercise a lot of cooperation with law enforcement agencies this holiday season," he concluded. "With a little extra effort on the part of all we can enjoy a deathless holiday, traffic-wise."

Senator Dolwig Urges 'Austerity' Program To Curb State's Budget

(Editor's Note: This is a report to the people by Senator Richard J. Dolwig of San Mateo County).

As the state senator from San Mateo County, I am one of 120 members of the board of directors of the biggest business in California. And I am deeply concerned over the fact that this business is running at a deficit.

The state budget for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1959, is over two billion dollars. The legislative auditor estimates the deficit for the current fiscal year will range between $70,000,000 and $100,000,000. For the next fiscal year starting July 1, 1959, he anticipates an accumulated deficit of approximately $280,000,000, unless new taxes are levied or expenses are reduced.

Two-thirds of the budget is made up of mandatory items beyond the control of the legislature. These are funds voted directly by the people and imbedded into the constitution. With respect to these funds the only function of the legislature is to levy the taxes to make the payments.

The largest of these mandatory funds is that of state support for the public schools. This is paid to local school authorities on the basis of $180 for each pupil, based on average daily attendance. The more pupils, the higher the state allocation. For next year, the increase in this mandatory item is estimated at $40,000,000. In addition, the schools are asking for $80,000,000 to meet increased costs not covered by the $40,000,000 automatic boost.

The trend to making the legislature simply a tax-fixing agency with no control over expenditures was temporarily halted this year, when the voters rejected Proposition 17. I am hopeful that this means the public wants the legislature to have more control over state expenditures, for without this control true economy in government is impossible.

Meanwhile, we have the problem of balancing the budget. An Associated Press poll shows most legislators believe new taxes are inevitable, but I am reserving judgment on this point.

There is talk of more consumer taxes and higher personal income taxes to solve the state's fiscal problem, but this, to me, is the easy way out of our dilemma. I believe that an austerity program can be imposed on that portion of the budget over which the legislature has control. I also believe that some agencies have squirreled away surpluses which should be transferred into the general fund to meet the budget.

I recently ran an adding machine tape on surplus funds in various state agencies, and I was amazed to find that these ran to approximately $40,000,000. By June 30, 1959, the total surplus in these special funds is expected to reach $111,000,000. There is also about $150,000,000 in the investment fund, derived from oil royalties from state lands.

The fees paid by many of the professions and businesses to the state for service rendered are often less than employees of both pay to their unions in dues. A more realistic schedule of fees, paid into the general fund, might be a partial solution to the state's fiscal problem.

As a member of the Joint Legislative Tax Committee, I have sat for days at hearings listening to testimony from experts and others. Most people say "tax the other fellow, but not me."

My object is to impose no new taxes on anybody, if this is possible. And I think it can be done without impairing any essential state service or paying state employees less than what they would earn for comparable work in private industry.

JEFF WINS TWO GAMES

Reitz, Howren Sparkle In Palo Alto Tourney

Mike Orlich's Jeff High varsity cagers won the consolation title and produced the top two scorers in the Palo Alto Invitational tournament last week.

The Daly City five won two out of three games and forwards Roy Reitz and Ernie Howren landed berths on the All-Tourney team.

Washington of SF captured the crown Saturday night by downing Cubberley of Palo Alto, 47-41.

Jeff, the defending tourney champ, lost its first game 50-41 to Palo Alto. The Indians then came back to nip Marysville, 63-62, and then raced past Bellarmine of San Jose, 49-40.

Reitz was high scorer for the entire tourney with 55 points. Howren was next with 51. This pair are expected to make Jeff a strong threat in the Peninsula League race which begins January 9 with the Tribe hosting Burlingame.

Orlich said Palo Alto's height advantage made the difference in Jeff's first encounter down south. Reitz' layup shot with seven seconds left won the Marysville scrap. The Indians led all the way against Bellarmine.

Next Monday afternoon the locals meet Washington of SF on the Eagles' court. Next night, December 30, Jeff hosts Sacred Heart in a 7:30 p.m. tipoff.

OPENING their Peninsula League campaigns on January 9 against San Mateo are Westmoor High's varsity (above) and lightweight (below) basketball squads. Tony Giammona coaches the Ram varsity, Byron Van Alstyne bosses the 30's.

W'lake Bowl Getting Ready For Leagues

Organizational meetings prior to league play are being scheduled at Swanson's Westlake Bowl for the week beginning December 29.

With the week of January 5 slated as the starting dates for the various teams, it is hoped that league rules and the election of league officers can be accomplished prior to the opening night of league play.

Confirmation letters have been sent to those teams requesting places in the various leagues asking the teams to notify Bob Elliott, league manager, of their acceptance of the places assigned them. For those teams without sufficient bowlers, there will be individual bowlers at the organizational meetings who are interested in bowling at the times the various leagues are scheduled.

The policy of the Bowl to have open play bowling at all times will be retained even during the league schedules. This will enable new bowlers to have sufficient time to practice. with the wide assortment of leagues offered, there is plenty of opportunity for all members of the family to participate.
